

ABOUT THE STATE

HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST FROM DIFFERENT SECTIONS

About nine inches of snow fell Nov. 5 in Stratton.

Herbert Woodward of East Haven recently killed in the woods near that place a black bear weighing 302 pounds.

Since October 28 not a death has been reported to Health Officer F. H. Gehhardt of Rutland. This is an almost unprecedented record for that city.

Rumor has it that a Chittenden man drove to Rutland to hear William Howard Taft at the recent rally, thinking the speaker still occupied the executive chair and was again a candidate for president.

George W. Chandler died Oct. 30 in Proctorville as a result of a fall which he received when he was buffeted about by the high wind of Oct. 17. He was very feeble and could not withstand the hard gale, which blew him over. He would have been 86 years old in January.

The Tuttle Co. of Rutland has received a consignment of souvenirs in the form of crockery which was ordered from Germany for the Christmas trade last year. Not an article in the way of a toy ordered abroad for the coming holiday season has been received yet, whereas last year all but one or two items of the consignment arrived safely, showing the tightening of the ban on shipping.

While Mr. and Mrs. Steven Leach of East Burke, were visiting in Kirby recently a thief or thieves broke into the house by breaking out a pane of glass. A trunk was broken into, bureau drawers were ransacked, and several cans of berries and plums taken from the cellar. A short time before Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Baker were away and their house was broken into and a sum of money taken.

Suit to recover $25,000 has been brought against the village of Hardwick by E. N. Sanctuary, for excavating and filling a pocket in the bed of the river, which was unforeseen when he constructed the dam above the village powerhouse at Pottersville, two years ago. The contract was made for $41,000, for the construction of the dam to rock bottom, according to soundings and drawings made. In the progress of the work a pocket of considerable proportions was found in the rock bed of the river, which was not found at the time of sounding. When the contract was made the village authorities provided for just such a contingency, having in mind other suits for recovery of a similar kind, and it remains to be seen what the outcome will be.

JUDGE POST SUES DR. NAY.

Brings $3000 Action, Alleging Letter Was Libellous.

St. Albans, Nov. 13.—City Judge Nathan N. Post of this city has brought a $3000 libel suit against Dr. W. Scott Nay of Underhill. The case grows out of a letter said to have been written by Dr. Nay in connection with the recent trial of Frank E. Bemis, a local chiropractor, in city court. The suit has been entered in Franklin county court and probably will be tried at the March, 1917, term.

PIMP? WELL, DON'T BE!

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, the bowels and the liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel—there's never any sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with "a dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

MEXICANS JEALOUS OF FOREIGNERS

Because Latter Have Come in and Been Given Special Privileges, Declares Luis Cabrera in Address in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Nov. 13.—In the event of war between the United States and other nations outside of America, Mexico understands that he attitude must be one of complete continental solidarity, said Luis Cabrera, chairman of the Mexican section of the American and Mexican joint commission in an address here Saturday night.

Dr. L. S. Rowe, president of the academy, and secretary of the commission, opened the meeting, declaring in his welcoming address that in the conduct of international relations the United States must stand for new and higher standards, with jealousy and distrust giving way to frankness, helpfulness and co-operation.

Mr. Cabrera, who, in addition to being chairman of the Mexican section of the commission, is the minister of finance under the Carranza government, discussed the ideals and purposes of the Mexican revolution from a purely scientific viewpoint, but in conclusion he referred to the international situation. He said:

"The main political international problem of Mexico consists of her relations with the United States. 'After the war of 1847 which cost Mexico half of her territory, Mexicans have not been able to regain confidence in the regard to the imperialistic tendency that the Latin-American countries attributed to the United States. During the Mexican revolution, after her occupation of Vera Cruz and the Columbus expedition, the fears of Mexicans of a conflict with the United States increased considerably, chiefly since it is known that one of the political parties of the United States frankly advocates intervention. The reported and public statements of non-intervention made by the Democratic government of the United States have not been sufficient to allay the fears of the Mexicans.

"As a neighbor of the United States, Mexico will also have an international problem of the danger of a conflict between the United States and some other European or Asiatic power. The foes of the United States, that are always foes of the whole American continent, will certainly assume to be friends of Mexico, and will try to take advantage of any sort of resentment, feeling or distrust that Mexico may have against the United States.

"Mexico, nevertheless, understands that in case of a conflict between the United States and any other nation outside of America, her attitude must be one of complete continental solidarity.

"From this viewpoint the revolutionary government has followed a policy of frankness and consistency in her relations with the United States, putting always her deeds in accordance with her words, and sincerely trying to reach an understanding with the people and the government of the United States.

"Within Mexico, the real international problem means the protection of foreign life and property and the condition of foreigners in regard to natives. On account of the non-enforcement of the political and civil laws in favor of Mexicans and on account of the always watchful diplomatic protection that foreigners have adopted, a sort of privileged condition has arisen little by little in favor of foreigners. Mexico has the problem of equalizing the conditions of Mexicans and foreigners, not by lowering foreigners, but by raising the condition of natives.

"The privileged condition of foreigners that has existed in Mexico for a long time, has produced a certain jealousy and distrust with which Mexicans look upon the increase of immigration and foreign investment in Mexico, since such increase would be considered as the strengthening of a privileged class.

"The problem for Mexico is to find the way in which foreign money and immigrants can freely come to Mexico and contribute to her progress without becoming a privileged class, that is to say, that instead of becoming a growing menace to the sovereignty of Mexico, will contribute to the consolidation of her sovereignty and independence as a nation."

VILLA AVOIDS CLASH.

Is Said to Be Somewhere on Northern Border of Durango.

Atlantic City, Nov. 13.—Villa now is somewhere on the northern border of the state of Durango, Mex., south and west of the Carranza army sent north to capture him and his followers, according to reports reaching the American members of the Mexican-American joint commission at Atlantic City Saturday.

These reports stated that while the Carranza army was moving northward through Escalon, Villa was avoiding a clash by moving his forces southward from Parral through mountain trails toward Durango state. Progress of the campaign in the northern part of Mexico was discussed again Saturday by the commissioners, but there was nothing to indicate they had reached a point where an agreement was possible.

GAVE AN OLD HOUSE FOR HUGHES BONFIRE

After Republicans Celebrated Willard Learned Election Chances Favored Wilson.

Winsted, Conn., Nov. 13.—Harold N. Willard, son of Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, remarked on election day that if Hughes was successful he would give an old house on his farm in Salisbury as fuel for a celebration. Late Tuesday night, when the returns indicated the election of Hughes, jubilant Republicans went to the Willard place and Willard kept his word.

The reflection from the blaze was visible for miles; persons living at a distance inquired by telephone where property was burning. "Hughes is elected and Willard's burning up his old house in honor of the Republican success," they were informed.

As smoke still was rising from the ruins and curling about the chimney which alone marks the scene of the great Republican celebration, joy turned to sorrow when word was received that the election result was in doubt, with chances favoring Wilson's success.

WEEK'S WEATHER OUTLOOK.

Fair in New England After Tuesday—Colder, Too.

Weather predictions for the week beginning yesterday issued by the weather bureau at Washington are: Unsettled Monday, followed by rain or snow Monday and Tuesday; fair thereafter. Temperature considerably below seasonal normal.

The only time Harvard and Princeton have even played a tie football game was in 1881 when each scored a safety against each other. The game was played in New York.

Guard Children Against Worms

Pinworms and stomach worms are some of the most dreaded diseases of children.

Signs of worms are: Drenched stomach, swollen upper lip, sour stomach, offensive breath, hard stools, and full belly with occasional griping and pains about the navel, pale face of leaden tint, eyes heavy and dull, twitching of the rectum, itching of the nose, itching of the teeth, little red spots sticking out on tongue, starting during sleep, sour fever.

Dr. True's Elcix, the Family Lavative and Worm Expeller, will surely and quickly expel worms, correct upset stomach and constipation. Adults are also benefited, and write me letters like this: "Dr. True's Elcix has done me a world of good. John Glass, Houston, Texas." At all dealers, 35c, 50c and $1.00. Advice free. Write me.
